

Advancing access to innovative cancer care

Hosted by MSD and
London Global Cancer Week

A panel discussion on cancer care in middle-income settings, leveraging research from Colombia and South Africa

Tuesday 23 May  7:45-9:15am

Hotel Royal, Rue de Lausanne 41, 1201 Geneva

Please RSVP by scanning the QR code with your smartphone or emailing laura.cook@porternovelli.com

Robert Yates
Director, Global Health Programme; Executive Director, Centre for Universal Health, Chatham House

Susannah Stanway
Medical Oncology Consultant and Steering Group Member, LGCW

Daniel Santiago Medina Gaspar
Adjunct Research Professor EAFIT University, Colombia

Debjani Mueller
Board of Directors, Health Technology Assessment International (HTAi), South Africa

Salome Meyer
Independent Consultant, Cancer Prevention and Control Focus, South Africa

Alfredo Polo
Director, City Cancer Challenge

Jenelle Krishnamoorthy
Vice President and Head of Global Public Policy at MSD

For any questions, please contact Laura Cook on laura.cook@porternovelli.com

About the MSD Oncology Policy Grants Program

The MSD Oncology Policy Grants Program, launched in 2019, is providing the evidence to drive conversations on global access to cancer care. The Program has so far supported research in 24 different countries and is working alongside initiatives such as the Universal Health Coverage agenda to ensure cancer care is included.

Join our expert group of researchers, partners and global health leaders as we seek to identify forward-looking policy recommendations to drive long-term improvements in cancer care for patients globally.

